HERO students do well in competition

Seventeen Appomattox County High School students enrolled in the Occupational Foods class under the direction of their Home Economics teacher, Mrs. Velma Elliott, participated in the South Central Area HERO (Home Economics Related Occupation) Proficiency Events, held at the Salem-Roanoke County Civic Center, Salem, Virginia on Wednesday, March 23.

This event provided the opportunity for Appomattox students to compete with students from 11 other county high schools in the South Central Area by exhibiting items they had made in the area of Culinary Arts.

Each of the participants was awarded a certificate in recognition of their attendance and participation. Ninteen items were exhibited. Of these, Lisa Reed won best show on her yeast rolls and will compete on the state level in Richmond, Virginia in April; Eleven second place ribbons and eight third place ribbons were won.

The following is a list of the students, the items exhibited and ribbon won:

Meat Class: Third place ribbons were awarded to Ernest Humbles for his Poultry Chaud Froid and Terry Johnson for her Ham Chaud Froid.

Cake Class: Second place ribbons were awarded to Patricia Flood for her Special Pan Cake; Vicky Haskins for her Coconut Cake; Rita Marshall for her Zodiac Cake and Lisa Ferguson for her Doll Cake. Pauline Lovelace, Edna Moss, Mary Scott and Wanda Mosley for their decorated cakes. Third place ribbons were awarded to Jo Ann Ferguson and Terry Johnson for their decorated cakes.

Bread Class: Second place ribbons were awarded to Lisa Bailey for her Easter Basket Bread; Virginia Crews for her Easter Egg Bread and Lisa Reed for her Yeast Rolls. Third place ribbons were awarded to Ella Davis for her Orange Nut Bread and Brenda Haskins for her Bagels.

Danish Pastry Class: A third place ribbon was awarded Frances Harris.

Dessert Cart Class: A third place ribbon was awarded Jo Ann Ferguson.

Mark Pierce assisted the students in setting up their exhibits.

Happiness is 4-H

Local youths order seedlings

By FRANK SWEET
Extension Agent

Only twenty-one 4-H'ers in Appomattox ordered pine seedlings this year from the Virginia Division of Forestry. The loblolly pine seedlings were delivered to each 4-H'ers on Friday of last week. 4-H parents are encouraged to assist members in making sure that the trees are cared for and planted correctly. The Division of Forestry provides these seedlings each year for 4-H members who have suitable planting locations.

The various 4-H judging teams are in the process of beginning practice for competition during late spring. Judging teams include consumerama, egg grading, soils, forestry, meats, livestock, dairy and horse. Practice sessions are normally held after school or on Saturday. 4-H'ers who are interested in judging teams and have not signed up may do so by calling the Extension Office.

The annual 4-H Presentation Contest was held this past Saturday at Appomattox Elementary School. Seventy-four 4-H members participated in this year's program. Winners from Saturday's program will have the opportunity to represent Appomattox in an Area Contest which will be held in Rustburg on April 16. 4-H'ers from the counties of Bedford, Amherst, Campbell and Halifax, as well as the City of Lynchburg, will also participate in the area program.

Six Appomattox 4-H and FFA members are scheduled to participate in the May 7 Central Virginia Livestock Show at the Lynchburg Livestock Market. Planning to exhibit beef steers are Jennifer and Tammie Starner. Preparing to exhibit beef heifers are Glen McClenny, Tracie Starner, Tami Giles and Kris Starner. 4-H and FFA members from an eight county area will be participating in the show.

Each of the 37 beef steers entered in the show will be sold for slaughter. Individuals who might be interested in purchasing a side of beef or a quarter of beef for their freezer may contact the Extension Office or the Vo-Ag Department at Appomattox County High School for details. Peak and Clowdis Meat Packers will coordinate the slaughter, cutting, wrapping and freezing of the meat.

A new 4-H corn project is now available for young people who are involved in assisting with corn production on the farm. The project emphasis is on learning about crops and crop management rather than on total production.

* * *

A reminder that Appomattox's week at Holiday Lake will be July 4-8. Details and applications will be available to 4-H'ers at their April meetings.

We are continually searching for volunteers to help with the camping program. Call us if you're interested.

STUDENTS IN MISS Gillam's third grade class look and listen with enthusiasm as Mrs. Jeanne Clabough presents a lesson about the microscope. Mrs. Clabough reviewed the parts of the microscope. She displayed and explained different kinds of microscopes. Mrs. Clabough also showed photographs of cells taken with an electron microscope. Finally, Mrs. Clabough taught the students how to make slides. Each student then made his own slide for observation under a school microscope.

NHS meets at ACHS

The ACHS National Honor Society met March 23. After president James Beaty called the meeting to order, Kim Maxwell called the roll, and Donna Layne led devotions.

Club members discussed SADD, or Students Against Drunk Driving. The group decided to write for more information on the organization.

A slate of proposed new officers for next year will be presented by the executive committee at the next meeting of the Society. At that meeting, the floor will be open for additonal nominations.

Susan Morris introduced Mrs. Judy Braswell, who gave a slide presentation on Brazil. Mrs. Braswell has served as a journeyman in Brazil.

We are saddened by the death of Mr. Len Childress. Our sympathies and prayers go out to this family.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Burcher visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burcher of Buckingham Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Wheeler of Roanoke visited Mrs. Tom Moore Sunday afternoon. Mr. Tom Moore is a patient in Lynchburg General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho W. Martin, Jr., have returned home after visiting relatives in Tennessee and Mississippi. In Memphis, the Martins visited with their son, Jimmy and his family. They also toured Mud Island on the Mississippi River, the Elvis Presley Mansion, and other places of interest. While visiting Mrs. Martin's aunt and cousin, Mrs. Neal Yelverton and family of Hattisburg, the Martins and Yelvertons visited various places of interest.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Otha Martin Jr. was in Richmond for a meeting of the executive committee of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Accompanying her were her sisters, Mrs. Herbert Richardson and Mrs. Clark Lewis.

Mr. Roland Smith is a patient in Lynchburg General Hospital, prayers go out for him and his family.

Those visiting Mrs. Roland Smith were Mrs. Mollie Rogers (who is staying with her at this time), Mr. and Mrs. Roland Smith Jr. of Virginia Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith of Richmond, Mrs. Dorothy Garrett of Vera, Mrs. Norma Booth, Mrs. Curtis Moore of Lynchburg, Mrs. Claudia Moore, and on Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Wheeler.

On Monday, Eleanor and Ava Chilton of Lynchburg visited Mrs. Otha W. Martin, Jr.

Mrs. Alise Drinkard is a patient in Virginia Baptist Hospital. We pray for her speedy recovery.
